PARK CITY BUDGET. Big Democratic Rally at the Opera

House Monday Night.

PARK CITY, Oct. 29.-Preparations are being made for a grand Democratic rally at the Park Opera House Monday night. Hon. A. J. Weber of Ogden, Senator R. C. Chambers and others will speak. Music will be furnished by the Park band, mandalin and gice clubs. C. A. Callis, candidate for representative, and J. Alma Smith will address a Democratic meeting at Hoytsville Saturday evening, October 31. George W. Groo returned from Pleasant Grove this morning.

John Lesile Boydon, chairman of the Democratic county committee, came up the part of the Teunited Silver-gold-McKinley siggregation. It was a most lamentable failure. The hall was cold, the audience was blue with cold, and Mr. Allison's attempt to show the con-sistency of the position of the "re-united" was most frigid.

LIGHTNING'S FREAKS.

LIGHTNING'S FREAKS.

The hills surrounding Toocle are snow-capped, and the people are forcibly reminded that winter is come. A curious coincidence occurred during our late storm. William Parker was sitting by his stove with his foot upon the hearth when a loud thunderclap occurred, a ball of fire appeared upon the top of the stove, and ran off the top onto the hearth, striking Parker on the leg and causing an acue pricking sensation. At the same peal one W. E. Rodeback was walking along the road nearly a half mile distant, when a ball of fire exploded in his face, striking him in the forehead, inflicting the same sensation, but did no damage.

POLITICS AT MERCUR.

S. R. Thurman and Others Do Good Work-Judge Henderson on Mon-night to listen to S. R. Thurman and other speakers.

K. B. Dresser discused the Demo-cratic platform and needed local re-forms, and he was followed by George P. Brown, who at some length com-pared the candidates on the two tick-pared the candidates on the two tickets.

Mr. Thurman, in his usual logical style, showed that the tariff issue had nothing to do with this election. The question of free silver coinage was the sreat issue on which the American people were called to decide.

As the campaign draws to a close it is evident that the Republicans are getting frightened, and falling in their arguments have resorted to the old trick of maligning their opponents. As they succeed in starting a rumor it is as promptly disproved, much to the annoyance of the slanderers.

On Monday evening Judge Henderson will be at Mercur and address the

As Seen by Dun. NEW YORK, Oct. 30 .- R. G. Dun-Co. will say tomorrow in their weekly eview of trade:

A market without anything to rule it A market without anything to rule it but politics is not often satisfactory. Business is almost abolished until af-ter election by the extraordinary pres-sure of money; by the Indisposition of anybody to sell who thinks a great change for the better is near; by the feeling that it is now of no use to con-tract or buy when so little time remains before a decision; and by the general absorption of business men in political activities.

The feature of the week has been the pressure in the New York money market, in spite of the heavy arrivals of gold Quotations of call loans at 100 per cent or more have no real meaning; except with practically four holldays to come in succession, there is really no market Commercial loans are almost a lost art, except as banks sustain their regular customers, which they do generally with a fair liberality. REPUBLICAN KNOCK-OUT

Judge Ro.app's Decision in the Weber Ballot Case.

THE PETITION IS VOID

DOES NOT CONFORM TO THE LAW'S REQUIREMENTS.

Consequence, the Republican Candidates Cannot Be Voted For Under the Party Name or Emblem of the Independent Republicans.

endered a very important decision. It s a complete defeat for the parties who were trying to get the names of Republican candidates on the ticket under the emblem of the Independent Republicans.

After reviewing the history of the Republicans.

After reviewing the history of the case, and the requirements of the law, the opinion continues:

In this case it seems the signers selected as a political name the following words: "Independent Republican Party," to which they added the selection of 16 to 1 bee hive emblem, which I doubt was either required or authorized. The clerk had theretofore received notice from the secretary of state that a party under the name of the Independent Republican party had regularly nominated their candidates and adopted said name, and the 16 to 1 bee hive emblem as their party device. It is admitted that this organization, together with its name, emblem and nominees, came into existence by a certificate of nomination as provided in section 6 of the election act. When the signers upon that certificate filed it with the secretary of state, its effect ceased except as to the rights requested and required thereunder, towit. That certain electors and a consressman should be placed upon the official ballot of each county. Such certificate could not be supplemented by the filling of any other certificate of its signers, because if the signers of the certificate or its signers, because if the signers of the certificate in question had the right to have their nominees over for under the selected name and emblem of any other signers who had falled to make jobal nominations, clearly any other hundred voters could do the same thing if orior in time. Or, in other words, if say the Republican narry of this state should for any reason only choose state officers, can it be contended that any 109 voters in the county could name the regularly nominated local candidates of the Democratic ticket, and by the mere filing of a certificate of nomination, claim the right to have such Democratic nominees voted for under the regular Republican emblem? In that case it would simply amount to the fact that certain voters had chosen the name, emblem and part of the nominees of one party and part of the nominees of another party. That was never the intention of the legislature in framing the election act. And vet, that is exactive what the certainors in this exactive what the restitutors in this ing the most extravagant claims re-garding the alleged surplus in the county treasury and the successful financiering of the present board of county commissioners. Their only hope is to make extravagant claims nope is to make extravagant claims and trust that their falsity cannot be proven before election day. They are nightly claiming that there will be a surplus of about 247,600 in the treasury. The Herald has already clearly shown that in order to make out such a showing they have to figure out moneys which do not belong and cannot be used in the general fund; and furthermore, that they leave out over $47,000 of liabilities incurred by the present board. If they will figure in the entire assets and liabilities, then The Herald will stand by the showing made; but they insist on putting in as assets money which has been accumulating for years and must by law go to pay obligations incurred years ago and to be paid years hence.

Any clitzen has a right to consult public records. The Herald charges that all the available revenue has been used up, and that time and again the county clerk has had to withhold warrants because he had drawn all that could be drawn under the law. Go to the courthouse and see if that is not true. and trust that their falsity cannot be not true.

The available taxes for the general fund this year are, if every cent of The available taxes for the general fund this year are, if every cent of one is considered by the strain set, one. The Utah National bank has notes of the county for $42,500 and the treasurer already has $25,000 worth of warrants outstanding. If anyone doubts it, call and see the records.

Again, the taxpayers should remember that in order to thus get hold of the public money the law has been violated by withholding it from the treasurer. Read the published statement of the treasurer to that effect. WEBER COUNTY HAS THE HIGHEST RATE OF TAXATION OF ANY IN THE STATE.

There must be a reason to that, investigate, and when you come to put your X on the ballot, govern yourself accordingly.
